

Kinde are her answeres

The Third and Fourth Booke of Ayres (1617)

Thomas Campion (1567 - 1620)

Kinde are her ans-weres, but her per - for - mance keeps no day. All her free
Breaks time as dan - cers from their own Mus - icke when they stray:

7
fa - vors & smooth words wing my hopes in vaine. O did ev-er voice so sweet but 12

on - ly fain? Can true love_ yeeld such de - lay, con - ver - ting joy to pain?

2. Lost is our freedome,
When we submit to women so:
Why doe wee neede them,
When in their best they worke our woe?
There is no wisdom
Can alter ends by Fate prefixt;
O why is the good of man with evill mixt?
Never were dayes yet cal'd two,
But one night went betwixt.